BY HAND TO THE COURT

Re: Abel v. Handshoe et al, Civil Action No. 13-88

Dear Judge Morgan:

It has been brought to my attention that Plaintiff Abel has issued a Subpoena Duces Tecum to the Parish of Jefferson in contravention of the stay of discovery in the above-referenced matter.

This letter is being sent to Plaintiff, all attorneys of record, the Parish of Jefferson and this Honorable Court to request that any such circumvention be quashed and appropriate sanctions imposed on Plaintiff.

Mississippi Department of Marine Resources open thread

This topic has been something of a red headed step child since early last month. I was glad to see the gang in officialdom has taken several of my suggestions as DMR is now crawling with auditors and consultants from two Mississippi CPA firms. I happen to know Shareholders/Partners at both firms, both of which have very good reputations for producing quality work. The firm from Hattiesburg, Nicholson and Company is very active in GOP political circles and I suspect the same is true of Horne in the Jackson area.

We've had hirings, firings and retirements including the subject of Slabbed's brother in law deal reef expose that have caused lots of chatter, including the recent hiring of Kelly Lucas as Chief Science Officer at DMR.

Back to those suggestions Slabbed made, one that we can't take any credit for is hiring the political PR firm to communicate the "good word" to the public at a cost of $50,000 in lieu of the seasoned professionals at Horne and Nicholson and Company, who I can attest first hand are possessive of excellent communications skills in their own right. So Slabbed today issues a BOLO for astroturfers on news stories etc on topic to DMR because that is part of what these political PR firms do.

In any event feel free to add anything DMR related in comments.

ANOTHER POLITICO REPORTS TO PRISON THE DEAD PELICAN

A sampling of public opinion from Drew Broach's piece at NOLA.com on Aaron Broussard's last performance before heading to the federal penitentiary at Butner North Carolina:

Is it just me or does anyone buy this or feel sorry for Broussard? I do not feel sorry for him. He, most likely, has been violating the law for a great deal longer than what he was caught doing. Even now when I travel, I still get asked about/laughed at because of this man crying on national television in a pathetic attempt to cover his backside because the drainage pumps were not staffed and the telling of that "tragic" story that turned out not to be true. I always wanted to ask him why they did not place the pump operators in the same location as the JPSO Deputies that stayed during Katrina. The scorn and national ridicule that he brought upon himself was self-inflicted and deserved, it is just unfortunate that the citizens of Jefferson Parish had to pay the price for his actions along with his lack of actions.

I had to watch my 80 year old mother sit on a mold covered sofa under her carport in Metairie, as my family and I carried everything she owned, evrything she acquired in 80 years get stacked up in front of her house in a big stinky pile of trash. I heard her ask me on every item I piled on that stack. " Can we save that, Can we save that?" All because of the stupidity of Aaron Broussard and his assinine Master of Disaster, Maestrie's, secession to send the only one who knew how to turn on the pumps to Mt Herman Louisiana. All of these Louisiana knuckleheads who stress forgivness for corrupt politicians are the source of the problem. You have to make public servants, and that is SERVANTS, responsible to the public for their actions. Aaron Broussard was corrupt for 30 years. He is only sorry he got caught. Now I guess when he gets out some ass will offer him some money to come and talk to elementary students about his experiences, Like we so with another life long corrupt politician Edwin Edwards. Lets give him a job and put him on TV. Makes me want to puke. Let him preach to the inmates at Federal Prison for a few years and then, come out and try to make amends to the hundreds of elderly Louisiana citizens that he was indirectly, and in some cases directly responsible, for shortening their lives. GODD RIDENCE
